Xtant™ Medical Announces the Operations Expansion of Montana’s Tissue Processing Rooms

Belgrade, MT, July 26, 2016 – Xtant Medical Holdings, Inc. (NYSE MKT: XTNT), a leader in the development of regenerative medicine products and medical devices, today announced the expansion of its tissue processing facility in Belgrade, MT, which now includes an additional seven new processing rooms. This more than doubles the capacity of processing rooms available for production.

The new processing suite will improve both production efficiency and utilization of resources, while allowing for the Company to increase its future product offerings. The rooms are equipped with the latest, state-of-the-art equipment for processing biologics, and will help Xtant Medical execute on its commitment to the State of Montana for creating new jobs.

“These facilities allow for increased processing volume of our high-demand products and reduces the time required to get processing suites available for reuse,” said Darrel Holmes, Chief Operating Officer of Bacterin International, Inc., a subsidiary of Xtant Medical. “We remain committed to the ideals of the Donate Life community, with deep respect for the gift of tissue donation and the benefits it can bring to donor recipients. We couldn’t be more proud of this expansion and the role we play in the Circle of Life”.

The U.S. allograft market is anticipated to grow to $682MM in 2016, according to market data provided by BioMed GPS, LLC.
